

Mothers Missing

Lyrics by Brendan McCormack

Verse 1

Unconsenting was the mandate as the ballots poured in Mall was empty as the kleptocratic clown was sworn in Bankrupt owners and now our republic needs restoring Silly Bonespurs! You can't drain the swamp with all the storming

Chorus 1

In the prison, lonely children cry for mothers missing
There is harmony, but you can't sing it on your own
Hold the Bible but you're moral high ground counterfeiting
And hear the voices laughing at you all alone

Verse 2

Law and order, but ignore it when the lawyers find you
Draw and quarter Marianne as gangsters wine-and-dine you
Porno actress yet Evangelists still sixty-nine you
Trips to practice golf are how the textbooks will define you

Chorus 2

In the prison, lonely children cry for mothers missing
There is harmony, but you can't sing it on your own
Oceans rising and our Mother Earth is now subsisting
So hear the voices laughing at you all alone

Bridge

And we can see it in your eyes
A psychopathic love of lies
Your river runs a mile wide
But oh (woah, woah) no tide

Chorus 3

In the prison, lonely children cry for mothers missing
There is harmony, but you can't sing it on your own
Send the soldiers in when you don't care whose lives you're risking
And hear the voices laughing at you all alone

Chorus 4

In the prison, lonely children cry for mothers missing
There is harmony, but you can't sing it on your own
Close the casket lids when science speaks but you're not list'ning
And hear the voices laughing at you all alone

Chorus 5

In the prison, lonely children cry for mothers missing
There is harmony, but you can't sing it on your own
More in common but against ourselves they have us pitting
So hear the voices laughing at you all alone
